

Microneedling/Microchanneling

Looking for a way to improve wrinkles and face lines without any downtime. The end results of your skin are amazing.

The non-invasive microneedling improves a myriad of skincare concerns by promoting collagen production. (Collagen Induction Therapy) And it does so by using fine, extremely small needles that puncture the skin on the surface level. Sounds strange, yes, but microneedling activates the skin's own repair response by producing these tiny wounds that need remedied. So as your skin heals itself, it produces collagen.

The results you can expect:

- Improved appearance of scars (stemming from acne and stretch marks)
- Diminished fine lines and wrinkles/ prevents the sign of aging
- Reduced hyperpigmentation
- Better absorption of topical ingredients
- Overall smoother, softer appearance
- Improves pore size

What to Expect

During a microneedling treatment, your aesthetician first applies numbing cream. then uses a technologically advanced microneedling pen across your skin. Expect slight discomfort, like tiny pin pricks, a 30-minute timeframe and almost immediate results.

A short downtime complements these immediate results. You may experience sunburn-like tendencies—tight, dry, sensitive skin—the first few days. Peeling or flaking may occur for a couple days' thereafter.

Additional Info

- Achieve desired results through a series of microneedling recommend approximately 3 treatments, spaced about a month apart.
- Microneedling works for all skin types and tones. However, those with psoriasis, eczema and active cold sores or acne breakouts should refrain from microneedling.

Your treatment includes an additional Ultrasonic Facial to deep cleanse and further maximize penetration of essential serum nutrients.

For best results we recommend a series of 3 treatments (ask for special series pricing, also includes a month supply of serums($40 value)
